How can I become a member of the editorial board?

Ismini - 2021-01-04 - Online courses

The editorial board members are nominated by the course moderator, based on their commitment and work during the course. So, if you participate in the course activities and produce good output, there is a chance you will be asked to join the editorial board!

Members of the editorial board can request a special certificate after the process has finalised, acknowledging their contribution.
