

School Education Gateway Support

Knowledgebase > Online courses > What is the blackout period?

What is the blackout period?

Ismini - 2021-07-02 - Online courses

The blackout period is a designated period of a few days at the end of each course. During the blackout period the course and its content will not be accessible. All your work on the course, however, is saved and will become available again at the conclusion of the blackout period.

During this period the Teacher Academy team will assess the work of course participants where needed, deal with any possible issues (plagiarism, missing final course activities/reviews, technical aspects), and prepare the course certificates.

Related Content

- The review I received in Step 3 is not constructive / not compliant with the instructions. What should I do?